MONTESSORI DEMONSTRATION

On Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the auditorium of the New Mexico Normal University Miss Bessie Watt, the head of the primary department, will give a talk on the Montessori method of teaching children.

Miss Watt will use the Montessori apparatus in her talk and will explain fully the use of each piece. No children will be used as the program is more for the explanation of the methods and aims of the system than a demonstration of how the work is done.

While much has been written about the system of the Italian physician for educating children most of the articles have been indefinite. The talk Saturday afternoon is for the purpose of bringing before the public the correct way of handling the Montessori apparatus.

Miss Watt will answer questions asked her on the method used and the results obtained with the apparatus.

Foreigners Prepare to Return
With the resignation of General Huerta from the provisional presidency there is every evidence among American and other foreign refugees here of an immediate movement to return to the capital and points in the interior, where abandoned interests are awaiting attention.

Many Americans who came to Vera Cruz during the general exodus and refused to proceed further, pending some adjustment of the affairs of Mexico, have expressed their intention of returning, and many are making actual preparations to leave at once for their former homes.

May Not Mean Peace

That the removal of General Huerta means permanent peace to Mexico is doubted in some quarters, but it is generally believed there will be a subsidence of anti-American sentiment and at least a period of relief from the menace of actual revolution.

There has been during the last few days a noticeable growth in the number of English, Germans and better class of Mexicans leaving over the gap toward the interior. Many of these are owners or managers of haciendas and mining property, who are going back, hoping to be able to resume business or to repair damage to property occasioned by abandonment, weeks ago.

They doubtless will find themselves handicapped by the crippled state of commerce through Mexican gulf ports, although there is still one German line of steamers plying regularly, and bringing quantities of supplies for the interior which are entering through Puerto Mexico. There is also one American line whose steamers make the ports irregularly.

Oil Shipments Resumed
One great impediment to the business activity of portions of the interior more or less untouched by the ravages of the revolution will be removed by the probable resumption of oil shipments from the Tampico district, and the consequent re-establishment of railroad service, which has been practically abandoned for lack of fuel oil.

As long ago as March the railroads refused to haul any but perishable or actually necessary freight shipments, so that those portions of the republic which otherwise might have continued their normal business activity have been forced into a condition of stagnation.

Since the American occupation very little freight has arrived here and most of that consigned to interior points is still in the customs warehouses. The interruption of rail traffic by the federals in opening a gap in the Mexican railroad has prevented the delivery of any but the lighter shipments and as a result virtually no cargoes from Europe or elsewhere have been consigned to Vera Cruz.

Mexican railroad officials are now making every possible effort to get the road restored and are confident a heavy traffic would immediately result. The company has kept 400 laborers and a train load of rails and ties at the gap for a week and is ready to push the work at a moment's notice.

American Workmen Arriving

For a month American workmen employed by foreign-owned mines and other enterprises have been straggling into the interior in small groups. Many were forced to go via Puerto Mexico because of the American government's orders that only Americans having urgent business be permitted to enter via Vera Cruz. Reports from the interior recently have indicated a gradual resumption of work in the various mining camps and officials of several companies here have received word that their plants

No Comment by Carranza

Monterey, July 15 (via Laredo, Tex., July 16).—When informed of Huerta's resignation tonight General Carranza, the constitutionist leader, made no comment for publication, but a high Carranza official said he believed there would be no change in his attitude or the movements of the constitutional army, but it would proceed to capture Mexico City. He qualified this statement by saying this plan might be changed in the event of unconditional surrender of the Mexican forces under the new provisional president.

Diaz Junta Forming

San Antonio, Tex., July 16.—Reports that a junta was being formed in El Paso in the interests of Felix Diaz were being discussed unofficially by army officers here today. The plan, it was said, was to start a counter revolution against Carranza and secure aid of Huerta irregulars.
